Financial Literacy Education Center that identified the critical need for the introduction of high-quality personal finance education into schools and communities.

Financial Literacy Foundation has always focused on the growing epidemic. The year continued to highlight the challenges and the failure by Americans to meet this need. As a lawmaker, I was searching for a solution to the problem of financial illiteracy in my state. The FitKit is that solution!

DoughMain Financial Literacy Foundation has always focused on the growing epidemic. The year continued to highlight the challenges and the failure by Americans to meet this need. As a lawmaker, I was searching for a solution to the problem of financial illiteracy in my state. The FitKit is that solution!

We rely on volunteers to provide professional and legal support. Our already proven and highly interactive FitKit program electronically for underserved and impoverished communities. To accomplish this monumental task as a small, resource-challenged organization, we have relied on volunteers who have supported our organization.

Each unit is very well organized for the educator and the lessons are engaging for the student. I particularly love the diversity in the students in the cartoons.

The number of points increased when financial literacy test scores were taken. That partnership came in the first 6 years, we’ve run the organization as leanly as possible.

We are an organization that is making a difference. As we grow, we will build on our success as we take a giant leap forward into the next decade of our endeavors.

We rely on volunteers to provide professional and legal support. Our already proven and highly interactive FitKit program electronically for underserved and impoverished communities.

The quality of our curriculum has been confirmed by a number of studies. Students who have used the FitKit show an increase in their personal finance knowledge. The 8-week school district project in Georgia showed a statistically significant increase in personal finance test scores of 40 percentage points and significantly increased their positive attitudes about personal finance using the FitKit curriculum in the last calendar year. As one student said, “Our school voted Personal Finance as the number one subject students were interested in learning about.”

Financial Literacy Foundation’s unique approach to financial literacy in our schools and communities.

We are an organization that is making a difference. As we grow, we will build on our success as we take a giant leap forward into the next decade of our endeavors.

The quality of our curriculum has been confirmed by a number of studies. Students who have used the FitKit show an increase in their personal finance knowledge. The 8-week school district project in Georgia showed a statistically significant increase in personal finance test scores of 40 percentage points and significantly increased their positive attitudes about personal finance using the FitKit curriculum in the last calendar year. As one student said, “Our school voted Personal Finance as the number one subject students were interested in learning about.”

Financial Literacy Foundation has always focused on the growing epidemic. The year continued to highlight the challenges and the failure by Americans to meet this need. As a lawmaker, I was searching for a solution to the problem of financial illiteracy in my state. The FitKit is that solution!

We rely on volunteers to provide professional and legal support. Our already proven and highly interactive FitKit program electronically for underserved and impoverished communities.

The quality of our curriculum has been confirmed by a number of studies. Students who have used the FitKit show an increase in their personal finance knowledge. The 8-week school district project in Georgia showed a statistically significant increase in personal finance test scores of 40 percentage points and significantly increased their positive attitudes about personal finance using the FitKit curriculum in the last calendar year. As one student said, “Our school voted Personal Finance as the number one subject students were interested in learning about.”

Financial Literacy Foundation has always focused on the growing epidemic. The year continued to highlight the challenges and the failure by Americans to meet this need. As a lawmaker, I was searching for a solution to the problem of financial illiteracy in my state. The FitKit is that solution!

We rely on volunteers to provide professional and legal support. Our already proven and highly interactive FitKit program electronically for underserved and impoverished communities. To accomplish this monumental task as a small, resource-challenged organization, we have relied on volunteers who have supported our organization.

Each unit is very well organized for the educator and the lessons are engaging for the student. I particularly love the diversity in the students in the cartoons.

The number of points increased when financial literacy test scores were taken. That partnership came in the first 6 years, we’ve run the organization as leanly as possible.

We are an organization that is making a difference. As we grow, we will build on our success as we take a giant leap forward into the next decade of our endeavors.

The quality of our curriculum has been confirmed by a number of studies. Students who have used the FitKit show an increase in their personal finance knowledge. The 8-week school district project in Georgia showed a statistically significant increase in personal finance test scores of 40 percentage points and significantly increased their positive attitudes about personal finance using the FitKit curriculum in the last calendar year. As one student said, “Our school voted Personal Finance as the number one subject students were interested in learning about.”

Financial Literacy Foundation has always focused on the growing epidemic. The year continued to highlight the challenges and the failure by Americans to meet this need. As a lawmaker, I was searching for a solution to the problem of financial illiteracy in my state. The FitKit is that solution!